

John and Trevor,

You both are truly our double blessing. You've made being a parent a joy. Your hard work and dedication to the long list of academic, athletic, and extracurricular activities have left us in awe.

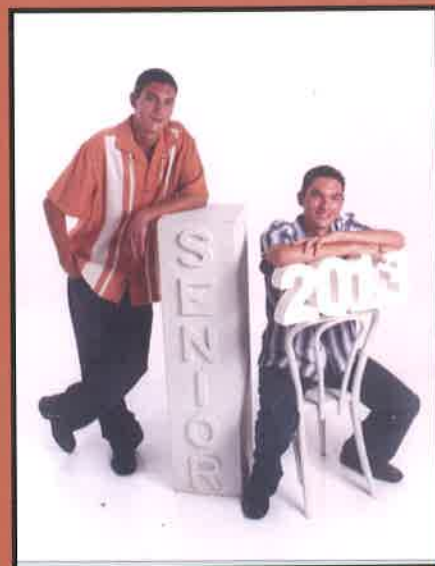

These 18 years have flown by. We are so proud to see you become young men, with strong character and individual personalities.

We will always support you and believe that your opportunities are endless as you take your next step in The Great Divide.
